DEDICATION

To LILA TOGNERI

- who has devoted much of her life to the best interests of Winthrop Training School;
- who has from the depth of her wisdom and experience equipped us with basic knowledge and skills;
- who has helped us with so many things both great and small—from home-coming festivities and making props for our plays to listening to our “gripes” and helping us to solve our other problems;
- who as our friend and counselor encouraged us to achieve our goals;
- who by example has taught us the meaning of goodness and truth;
- who has been a leader in education in our community and state;
- who, in our memories, will forever be silhouetted against the sky, with work basket on arm, trowel in hand, and an A-1 for improving terrace and building;
- who has touched our lives in so many other ways, all invaluable and unforgettable; and
- who has been, through the years, simply Lila Togneri—

We, the Senior Class, in appreciation of long and lasting service, fondly dedicate The Wildcat for 1963.

FOREWORD

On these pages, permanently recorded, are the activities of Winthrop Training School which the seniors have experienced for the last time. The Wildcat for 1963 is unique in that it is divided into four sections according to the several seasons. The events of the school year have been arranged in relation to the season in which they occur.

The end of summer finds some reluctantly returning from the beach, while others eagerly await their first days of school. Fall and winter bring the excitement of football games, home-coming, the basketball season, the responsibility of club activities, and the headache of semester examinations. With spring come the Junior-Senior prom, May Day, and graduation; which marks the end of another year at WTS.

The Class of 1963 leaves this book in the hope that they will not be forgotten by those who follow them. The seniors take with them many fond memories of past years, from that summer day when the Class of 1963 began their school career to the spring evening when the final exercises of that career are held.

Let those who come after strive to maintain the high standards which have ever characterized the life and reputation of Winthrop Training School and her graduates.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Wildcat staff wishes to record with gratitude its indebtedness to the many people whose generous assistance has made possible the publication of this book. Especially we would thank the Training School faculty for its patience and cooperation; the student body for its enthusiastic support; Mr. Frank Fleming for his professional services so patiently rendered; Mr. Horace Blackston and Douglas Studio for effective and artistic photography; Miss Bessie Poag and Mrs. Yeager for their special contribution. Above all, we would acknowledge our appreciation of the fact that Miss Maria Culp devoted much of her valuable time to helping us with the business details of publication; and that Mr. William B. White, Jr., not only typed and edited the copy, but supported us with his unfailing guidance and encouragement. Their generous expenditure of time and energy was far above and beyond the call of duty.

SUMMER

FACULTY

The President and the Dean of Winthrop College knew each other well before coming to Rock Hill. Charles Shepard Davis and Walter Douglas Smith were Dean and Professor of Psychology, respectively, at Florida State University, in Tallahassee, Florida. In 1959 Dr. Davis accepted the office of fifth President of Winthrop College, and Dr. Smith became Dean of the South Carolina College for Women.

The 1961 Tatler described Winthrop's top man this way: "Because you are an inquisitive scholar, challenging teacher, innovative educator, understanding administrator, we dedicate the 1961 Tatler to you, our president . . ."

Walter Douglas Smith, Ph.D.
Dean of Winthrop College

Charles Shepard Davis, Ph.D.
President of Winthrop College

Dean Smith's wife was quoted in the November 1, 1959, edition of The State as saying of her husband: "Doug has a very real understanding of people." Dr. Smith uses his "real understanding" in his job at Winthrop as Dean and as Chief Co-ordinator of Winthrop Training School.

The pupils of Training School recognize in Dr. Davis and Dr. Smith two capable leaders and friends, who will guide the destinies of WTS and Winthrop in the years ahead.

Jack Holt Boger, Ph.D.
Director of Winthrop Training School

Maria Parks Culp, M.A.
Acting Principal of Winthrop Training School

On June 13, 1960, a man now dear to the students of WTS, Jack Holt Boger, assumed the position of Director of Winthrop Training School. Before coming to Rock Hill, Dr. Boger was Director of Curriculum Services with the public schools of Richmond, Virginia. Dr. and Mrs. Boger plan to keep the Training School well supplied with "little Bogers," for they have three children of school age: Bronson, Thomas, and Gretchen.

Another of the faculty, Miss Maria Culp, is a familiar figure in the WTS classrooms. She came to Training School in 1946 after teaching in her home town, Fort Mill. Miss Culp taught typing here until September, 1962, when she became Acting Principal. Miss Culp says that there is "not much trade" when it comes to discipline at WTS. She enjoys talking with people and finds that her position helps her in this pastime.

Mrs. Gladys Beckham Moffat, who is often called "Miss Muffett" by younger students, has been secretary of the Training School since February, 1960. Mrs. Moffat is responsible for the smooth mechanical workings of the School. She finds her job "interesting and different every day."

THE WILDCAT

Louise Dickert, Assistant Business Manager (Seated); Edward Tucker, Business Manager (Standing)

With the help of the annual-staff sponsors, Mr. White and Miss Culp, the 1963 staff began working on plans for the Wildcat during the first month of school. After deciding on a theme, the group drew up a rough draft and began collecting advertisements. When the dummy was returned by the printer, a photographer visited Winthrop Training School for two days of picturemaking.

The week of November 19 marked the successful Wildcat subscription drive.

A new procedure was initiated this year. Copy for the annual was prepared by members of the senior class. The Wildcat staff felt that in this way the Seniors could actually participate in making their yearbook one to be remembered by all.

D.A.R. GOOD CITIZEN

The D. A. R. Good Citizenship Award is given each year by the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution to an outstanding senior girl of Winthrop Training School. The choice is based on leadership, honesty, integrity, and service to the school. The seniors submit three nominations to the faculty, who then make the final selection. The editor of the 1963 Wildcat, Polly Eells, is this year's recipient of the coveted award.

REPRESENTATIVES TO GIRLS' AND BOYS' STATE

Palmetto Boys' State and Palmetto Girls' State, sponsored by the American Legion, are conducted in Columbia each year. Outstanding boys and girls from all areas of South Carolina are given the opportunity to participate in many phases of government activities. The students learn how city, county, state, and national governments operate. Representatives are chosen on the basis of moral character, good sportsmanship, leadership potential, and demonstration of sufficient scholastic ability to make a significant contribution to community life of the future. The programs for 1962 were held in the month of June. Sadler Poe, Dickie Hunsucker, and Katharine Freeman represented WTS at the meetings in the state capital.

The Red Cross Council Members at Winthrop Training School

RED CROSS COUNCIL

The American Red Cross is an organization created to help others. Each year the Red Cross raises millions of dollars to carry on a wide program of disaster relief, health education, and other related activities.

The Red Cross Council of Winthrop Training School is made up of students in grades seven through twelve. The only requirement for membership is a willingness to work with the Red Cross program. The council meets once a month to discuss business and to make any necessary items needed by the Red Cross. During the Christmas season the Red Cross members make wreaths for the soldiers at Fort Jackson and prepare gift packages to send overseas. If members wish, they may attend a Red Cross camp during the summer months.

The capable and friendly sponsor of the group is Mrs. Yeager, who has directed Red Cross activities at WTS for many years.

Future Homemakers of America is a national organization of girls and boys studying homemaking in high school. The national body is composed of chartered state associations, which are made up of local chapters. Any juniors or senior high-school student who is taking or has taken a homemaking course may become a member.

The over-all goal of the organization is to help individuals improve personal, family, and community living, now and in the future. The local chapters develop a program which will help them work toward this goal.

During the past year the WTS chapter had programs on the following topics: Christmas decorations, hair styling, personal charm, clothes buying, and clothes accessories. The group also gave a tea for parents and raised money by having a cake sale.

Cathy Smith, Historian; and Becky McKenzie, State Historian of the Junior Classical League.

The Junior Classical League is an organization of high-school Latin students who are interested in attaining a thorough knowledge of Roman life, history, and literature. Junior Classical League members gain an understanding of the practical and cultural value of the classics.

In order to be admitted to membership in the League, a Latin student must have an average of "2" or better and must maintain an average of "3." The members of the Training School group are taking advantage of their excellent opportunity to learn to appreciate the classics and to learn about the ancient Romans. The outstanding sponsor for the group is Miss Kathryn Bowen, visiting professor of Latin at Winthrop College.

WTS Crushes Catholic 33-14

The Wildcats were fired up after their first loss to Great Falls the week before. Charlotte Catholic could not stop the Wildcats' offense. By the end of the third quarter, the offense had piled up 33 points. The defense held the Catholic offense scoreless during the first three quarters; then the Cats' reserve unit took over for the last quarter. The final score was WTS 33, Catholic 14.

Wildcats' Touchdown Blitz Buries Lewisville 42-12

WTS, looking for its fifth victory, met Lewisville, an arch rival. The home team again got off to a fast start by scoring in the first three minutes of the game. The Wildcats' offense scored five touchdowns to put them well out in front of the Lions. The Cats' outstanding defense held Lewisville to 12 points. The final WTS score was 42.

Wildcats Shatter Fort Mill 27-6

The Wildcats went into the game as underdogs, but came out in true WTS style with a 27-6 victory. From the very beginning the Cats were in control, taking the opening kickoff and scoring in 12 plays. An ignited Training School team then went on to make the score 27-0 at half time. Fort Mill came back in the third quarter to score its only tally. All in all, WTS enjoyed a well-deserved team victory.

Winthrop Training School Thunders Past Heath Springs 41-12

The Wildcats came out to please the home-coming crowd and did just that with a 41-12 victory over Heath Springs. WTS scored six times with five touchdowns, covering runs of fifty yards or more. With a 27-6 half-time advantage, the starting eleven saw very little action during the second half. The "rinky-dinks" once again got an opportunity to "rub noses" with the opposition, allowing Heath Springs to score only once. This game boosted the Cats' record to 7-0-1.

York Shaves WTS 20-19

Hoping to win the conference title, the WTS Wildcats entered the final conference game of the season against York. York got off to a fast start by scoring two touchdowns before the Wildcats could move the ball. The Cats came back, scoring three touchdowns; but in the final minutes York drove for the winning touchdown. The final score was York 20, WTS 19.

Rose's TD Runs Help WTS Rip Buford 28-7

The victory was the eighth in ten games—a record to be proud of. Sandy Rose scored three times and Pat Quantz, once, to spark the Cats on their way. The Wildcats had a bad case of fumble-itis, with five fumbles to Buford's three, on a cold, disagreeable night.

This was the last game for ten seniors; but before the game was over, they enjoyed a short series of "Senior Defense" and guard-type halfbacks, along with halfback-type tackles.

1962 HOME

Each year as the Winthrop Training School football season concludes, football players credited with twenty quarters ask girls to be their sponsors for Home-coming. As the date draws near, everyone prepares for the big event. The night before the game, WTS has a motorcade followed by a pep rally in the gymnasium. This year the cheerleaders, as part of the fun, hanged the Heath Springs Blue Devil. The Home-coming Queen and the Maid of Honor are selected by the students in the seventh through the twelfth grades. During half time on October 19, 1962, Nancy Thomas, Maid of Honor, was presented a bouquet of flowers. Rudy Martin, captain of the football team, crowned the Queen, Betty Black!

The Student Council is an organization of students elected to serve as the official representatives of the other students in all matters concerning the entire school. The Council provides a medium through which students' opinions may be heard and a forum in which common school problems may be considered. Besides being a student forum, the Council is a training ground for leaders and helpers. The Student Council is involved in the real problems of the school and often offers many suggestions for improvement.

HEALTH CAREERS

The Health Careers Club is an extracurricular activity for both boys and girls. The Club creates a better knowledge and understanding of careers in medicine for high-school students who want to help and serve others. Students are introduced to different fields of medicine and informed of the new and improved methods in these fields.

The Health Careers Club meets monthly. Members hear visiting speakers and present projects from time to time. Each year the club attends the state convention, where students interested in health careers gather to share projects and ideas.

The advantages of the Health Careers Club are many, for it helps to stimulate student interest in medicine and its varied opportunities.

CHEER

Decorating a Goal Post

The cheerleaders begin practice in the summer in preparation for the coming football season. The nine cheerleaders hold pep rallies each Friday and decorate the goal posts before each home game. A special pep rally is held for the homecoming game. This year, after leading through town a motorcade of decorated cars, the cheerleaders returned to the campus, where they hanged the Heath Springs Blue Devil.

The next responsibility of the cheering nine is the basketball season. Once more the group gets into the swing of things with practice and pep rallies.

As the season draws to a close, new cheerleaders are elected by students in grades nine through twelve. Three seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, one freshman, and an alternate from each of the four grades are elected for the following year.

LE SALON FRANCAIS

The French Club has been in existence for four years. Sponsored by Miss Nolan, the club for its purpose the promotion and encouragement of interest in the French language and culture, independent of school curriculum. In order to be eligible for membership, a student must make and maintain an average of eighty-five percent in his French courses; all students taking French III and IV are automatically members.

Meetings are held monthly in the homes of the members. Guest speakers are sometimes invited, and various aspects of French life are presented by members.

Special projects, such as trips to Charlotte to see French motion pictures, and other outstanding events are planned throughout the year.

The charming sponsor for the group is Miss Edna Ann Nolan, French instructor.

National Honor Society

Shortly after the First World War, many educators realized the need of a national organization to recognize high scholastic achievement in secondary schools. The National Honor Society was founded in 1921 as a result of the work of leading figures in high-school education. Membership in the Society is one of the highest awards given by schools.

The Winthrop Training School Chapter is made up of juniors and seniors who maintain a scholastic average of 2.50, or 88 percent; but scholarship is not the only requisite for admission. Each member must demonstrate leadership, character, and the desire to be of service to others.

By requiring high standards of admission, the National Honor Society sets a goal for students. Those who reach this goal are stimulated to develop their minds even further. The National Honor Society encourages its members to strive for excellence.

Officers for 1962-1963 are the following: Sadler Poe, President; Cornelia Pressley, Vice President; and Linda McCarty, Secretary-Treasurer.

BLOCK "W" CLUBS

Each year the Block "W" Clubs award a letter to each student who has successfully fulfilled its membership requirement of having participated in at least one-half of the total number of games quarters each year in either or both of the two inter-scholastic sports offered, football and basketball. The Clubs are most active during the few weeks prior to the opening football game. The boys who will letter that year sell advertisements for the football program and collect a small fee from any person who wishes to be a personal supporter of the Wildcat teams. The money donated in this manner helps pay the cost of the letter sweaters, and the checks received for the advertisements go toward the purchase of new equipment for the football and basketball teams.

MISS W.T.S.

Nancy Thomas, of the twelfth grade, was elected "Miss WTS" by the seniors. She represented the Training School in the annual Rock Hill and Fort Mill Christmas parades.

MISS HI MISSES

Polly Eells and Linda Snipes were selected to represent Winthrop Training School in the 1963 Miss Hi Miss program of Winthrop College. The Miss Hi Misses are chosen on the basis of scholarship, character, leadership, and personal attractiveness. All South Carolina high schools and the North Carolina high schools within a one-hundred-mile radius of Rock Hill are invited to participate in this program. The girls are featured in the special February fifteenth Miss Hi Miss edition of The Johnsonian, the Winthrop College newspaper. The recipients of this honor are guests of Winthrop College for the weekend of April 26-28. Shown at right are Linda Snipes (seated) and Polly Eells.

The boys of Winthrop Training School finished the 1963 basketball season with the first perfect record in the history of our school.

Coach Misenheimer, in his fourth year here, attributes his team's undefeated season to experience, rebounding, defense, and determination.

Three of the starting five, seniors Robert Cauthen and Rudy Martin and junior Charlie Cobb, were regulars for three seasons. The other two were juniors Larry James and Peter Perrill.

The Training School was able to control the boards effectively in most of its games and had great success with a fast break after the rebound.

Cauthen, the 6' 4" center, was the team's leading rebounder, with help from Cobb and James, a pair of 6' 0" forwards.

Rudy Martin was valuable ball-handler and outstanding guard for the Wildcats. Martin and Cauthen were co-captains for 1963.

The Training School's closest brush with defeat came early in the season when it edged Fort Mill by a single point.

Misenheimer's forces rolled up their biggest point total of the year against Great Falls; and they scored 93 points in a lopsided win over Pageland.

In the Catawba Class A Conference Tournaments, held in Chesterfield, the Wildcats drew a bye because of their superior record. The W. T. S. victory over York in the boys' first tournament game entitled them to play Fort Mill in the finals. While Fort Mill threatened several times to tarnish the boys' record, the final result was W. T. S. 55, Fort Mill 54.

Superintendent H. E. Corley, of Chesterfield, presented the Class A Catawba Conference Basketball Trophy to the victorious Wildcats (see photograph).

In the first round of the State Class A Tournament, held in Columbia, the Wildcats met their first defeat in a tight game with Murray, of Charleston.

But this one loss did not diminish the fact that the W. T. S. boys achieved the most enviable basketball record in the long history of Alma Mater.

Determination and the desire to win plus excellent coaching on the part of Mrs. George Cobb and her assistants, Betty Davis Riddle and Joanne Merck, have resulted in the finest basketball season the Winthrop Training School girls have ever experienced. For the first time in history the girls won the Class A Catawba Conference championship.

Four of the starting six players were seniors. The three forwards were Linda McCarty, Cornelia Pressley, and Polly Eells. Nancy Lane Yorke was guard. The remaining two guards were juniors Marilyn Ridley and Louise Dickert. The forwards played together for three years.

Merilyn Ridley and Polly Eells were outstanding in their rebounding ability. Louise Dickert sparked the defensive unit with her ability to move the ball up court quickly. Nancy Lane Yorke's blocking and passing were an important factor in the team's successful season. Linda McCarty was leading scorer, with considerable help from Cornelia Pressley.

In their opening contest of the Catawba Conference Tournaments in Chesterfield, our girls easily defeated Chesterfield. W. T. S. again tasted victory in the semifinal game as they rolled by Pageland. For the first time in the history of Winthrop Training School girls' basketball, the starting sextette advanced to the finals. Victory came handily as the well-skilled team defeated the Fort Mill defending champions.

When the coveted trophy of the Class A Catawba Conference was presented to the co-captains of the team, Cornelia Pressley and Linda McCarty, the school experienced a feeling of triumph and the Lady Wildcats knew the thrills of success (see photograph).

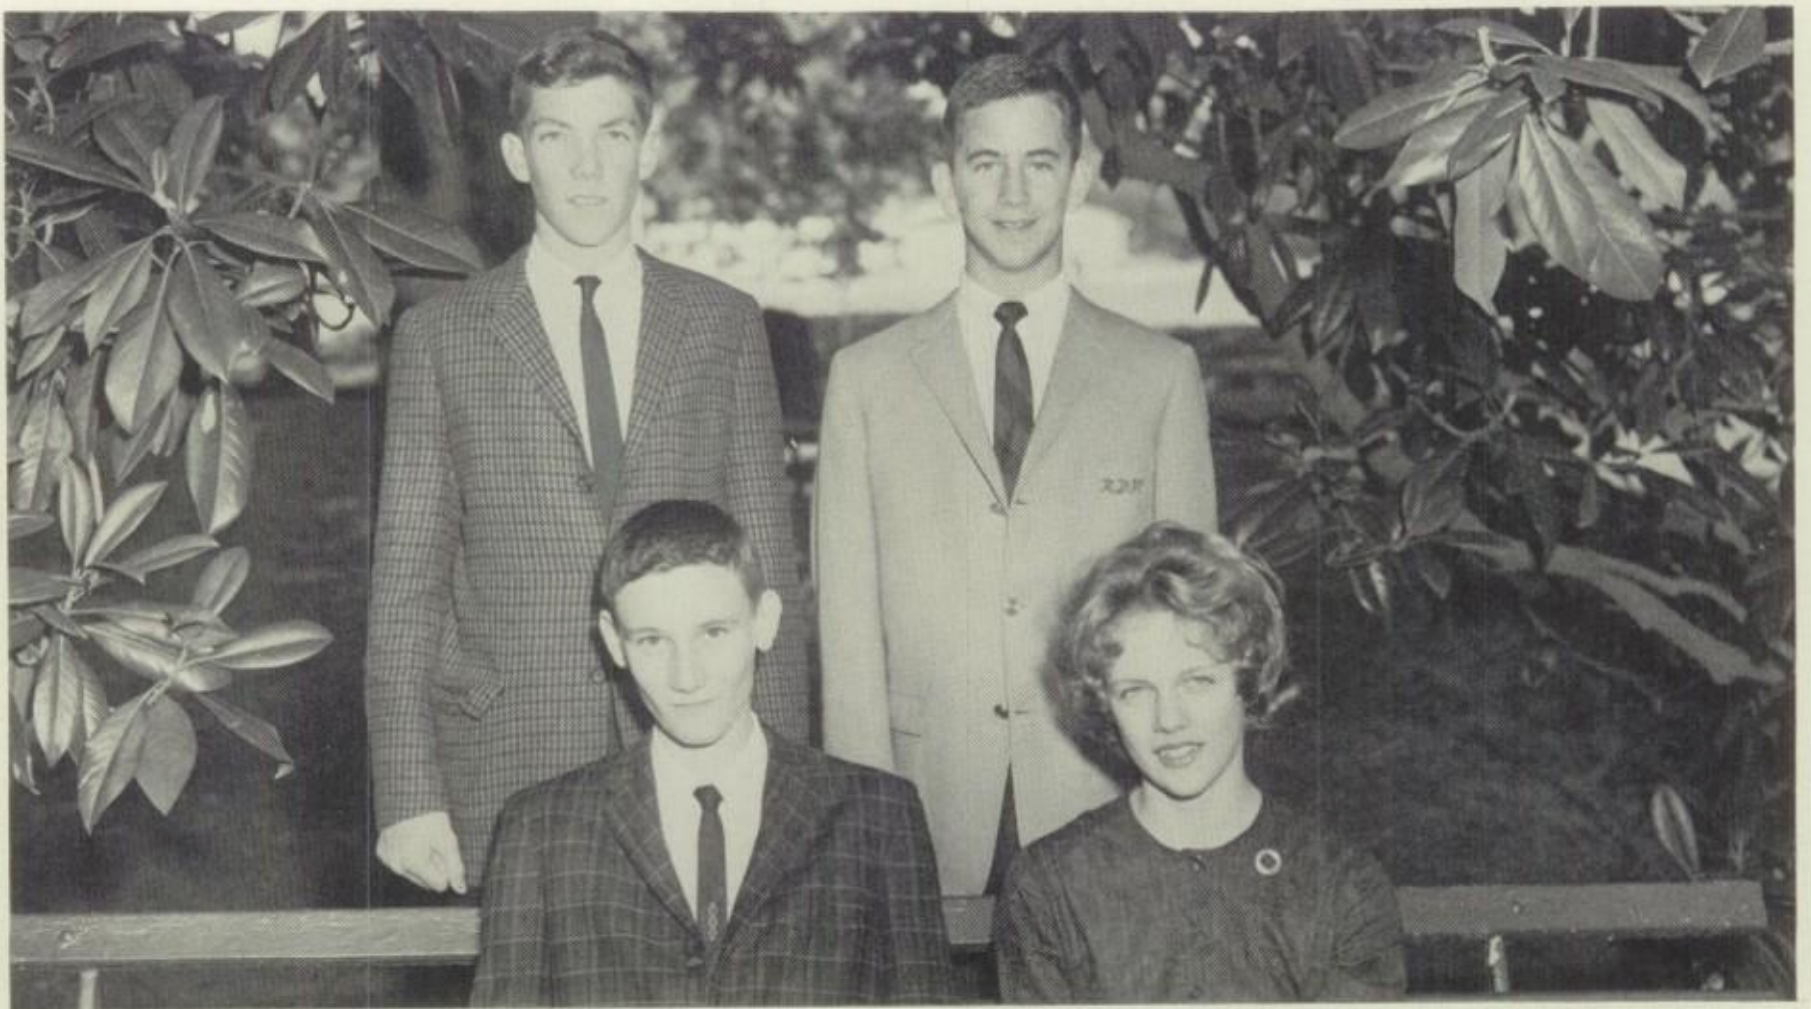

Our girls, despite their loss to Moultrie in the first round of the State Class A Tournament in Columbia, have to their credit a record of which they have a right to be proud.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

Under the supervision of Miss Lila Togneri, the class officers, and the student council members, the freshmen planned for a successful year—their first in high school. The group organized a guidance course to familiarize themselves with their new and greater responsibilities. A reading class, a vocational group, and field trips are featured. A number of boys and girls in the ninth grade are members of the athletic teams of Winthrop Training School.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

The junior year of high school has proved to be one of the busiest the student has experienced during his school career. He has begun thinking seriously about definite plans concerning his goals in life and the furthering of his education beyond the high-school level.

Extracurricular activities still included those of athletics and the various clubs, but one of the highlights of interest was the Junior-Senior Banquet, held in the spring. Throughout the first semester, plans were made concerning the theme, the ever-prevailing resolve being, "This will be the best one ever!" Fund-raising projects included Saturday car-washes, barbecues, and bake sales. The class worked together to make each activity a success.

Second semester brought the actual planning of details, the sketching of scenes and floor plans. During the final week before the big night, everyone worked to transform the high-school gymnasium into a small portion of another world. Second semester also brought the anticipated arrival of class rings, which annually remind juniors that they will soon be seniors.

All of the activities of the junior year seemed to bring about a closeness never felt before within the group. This most important aspect is the memory that the students will recall in later years.

The sponsor for the Class of 1964 is Miss Edna Ann Nolan.

SENIORS

The senior class has been busy throughout the school year with several class projects. Among these has been the completion of the school yearbook. To help finance this project, the class has operated the concession stand at the football and basketball games.

In preparation for graduation, the class ordered the usual invitations and personal cards. They also voted on the color of the robes to be used at commencement exercises.

Since they are the oldest pupils in the Training School, the seniors have the responsibility of conducting themselves in such manner as will set a good example for the younger students. Senior privileges (having free study periods and being first in the lunch line) have tested the discipline of the class. Not abusing their privileges has proved the thirty-two members of the Class of 1963 worthy of the trust placed in them.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

"April in Paris"

On April 13, 1962, the junior class honored the senior class with the annual Junior-Senior Prom. When each couple walked over the rose-covered bridge into the world of Paris, their attention centered on the Arc de Triomphe, the master-piece of the juniors' Creation. The splendor of "April in Paris" was highlighted by a colorful sidewalk cafe and the facade of the Lido, one of the most famous night spots of the Latin Quarter.

The enchanting mood was set by the music of the "Nomads." There were can-can dancing and other entertainments typical of Parisian night life. The menu of the evening included, among other things, hors d'oeuvres and bananes flambées à l'eau-de-vie. As the soft blue lights faded away, everyone was sad to see the end of what was to most one of the memorable nights of a lifetime.

MAY

May Day is a festivity which has been presented at Winthrop Training School for many years. This traditional event, planned and directed by Mrs. George P. Cobb, is held on the front campus. The May Court consists of a May Queen, a King, and two attendants from each class in the high school. For entertainment at May Court, the pupils in the lower grades perform many types of dances and skits.

May Court this year is being held on May 1, 1963. Nancy Lane Yorke will reign over the spring scene as Queen of the May. Edward Tucker is King. The senior attendants are Rosellen Hilton and Scott Brawley; the junior attendants are Rosemary Branyon and Churchill Pitts. The sophomore representatives are Polly Barbare and Moubray Beaty, and representing the freshmen are Jeanne Evans and Jimmy Hardin.

FUTURE TEACHERS

The Future Teachers of America is a nationwide organization of high-school students who are interested in teaching as a profession.

Students study the qualities, traits, and aptitudes which are basic to successful teaching. The members acquire an understanding of the history and development of our public schools, as well as their purpose and objectives. The F. T. A. enables students to secure information on the opportunities of a career in teaching and to participate in pre-vocational activities which are both exploratory and developmental in nature.

SENIOR MARSHALS

The Senior Marshals are the five girls and the five boys in the twelfth grade who have the highest scholastic averages. Their duties involve marshaling at the annual National Honor Society induction and participating in the May Day program.

The senior having the highest rank is designated Chief Marshal of Winthrop Training School. Sadler Poe received this distinction for the school year 1962-1963.

Linda McCarty, President; Edward Tucker, Vice President; Ann Wimberly, Secretary-Treasurer; Sammy McCarty, Jimmy Chick, Joy Oates, Bill Beaty, Bill Long, Members of the Band Council.

The Winthrop Training School Band has for a long time been the showpiece of the school. Under the able direction of Emmett Gore, the band has progressed admirably through the years. This musical organization maintains high standards of musical training and performance.

W.T.S.

Members of the Winthrop Training School Band

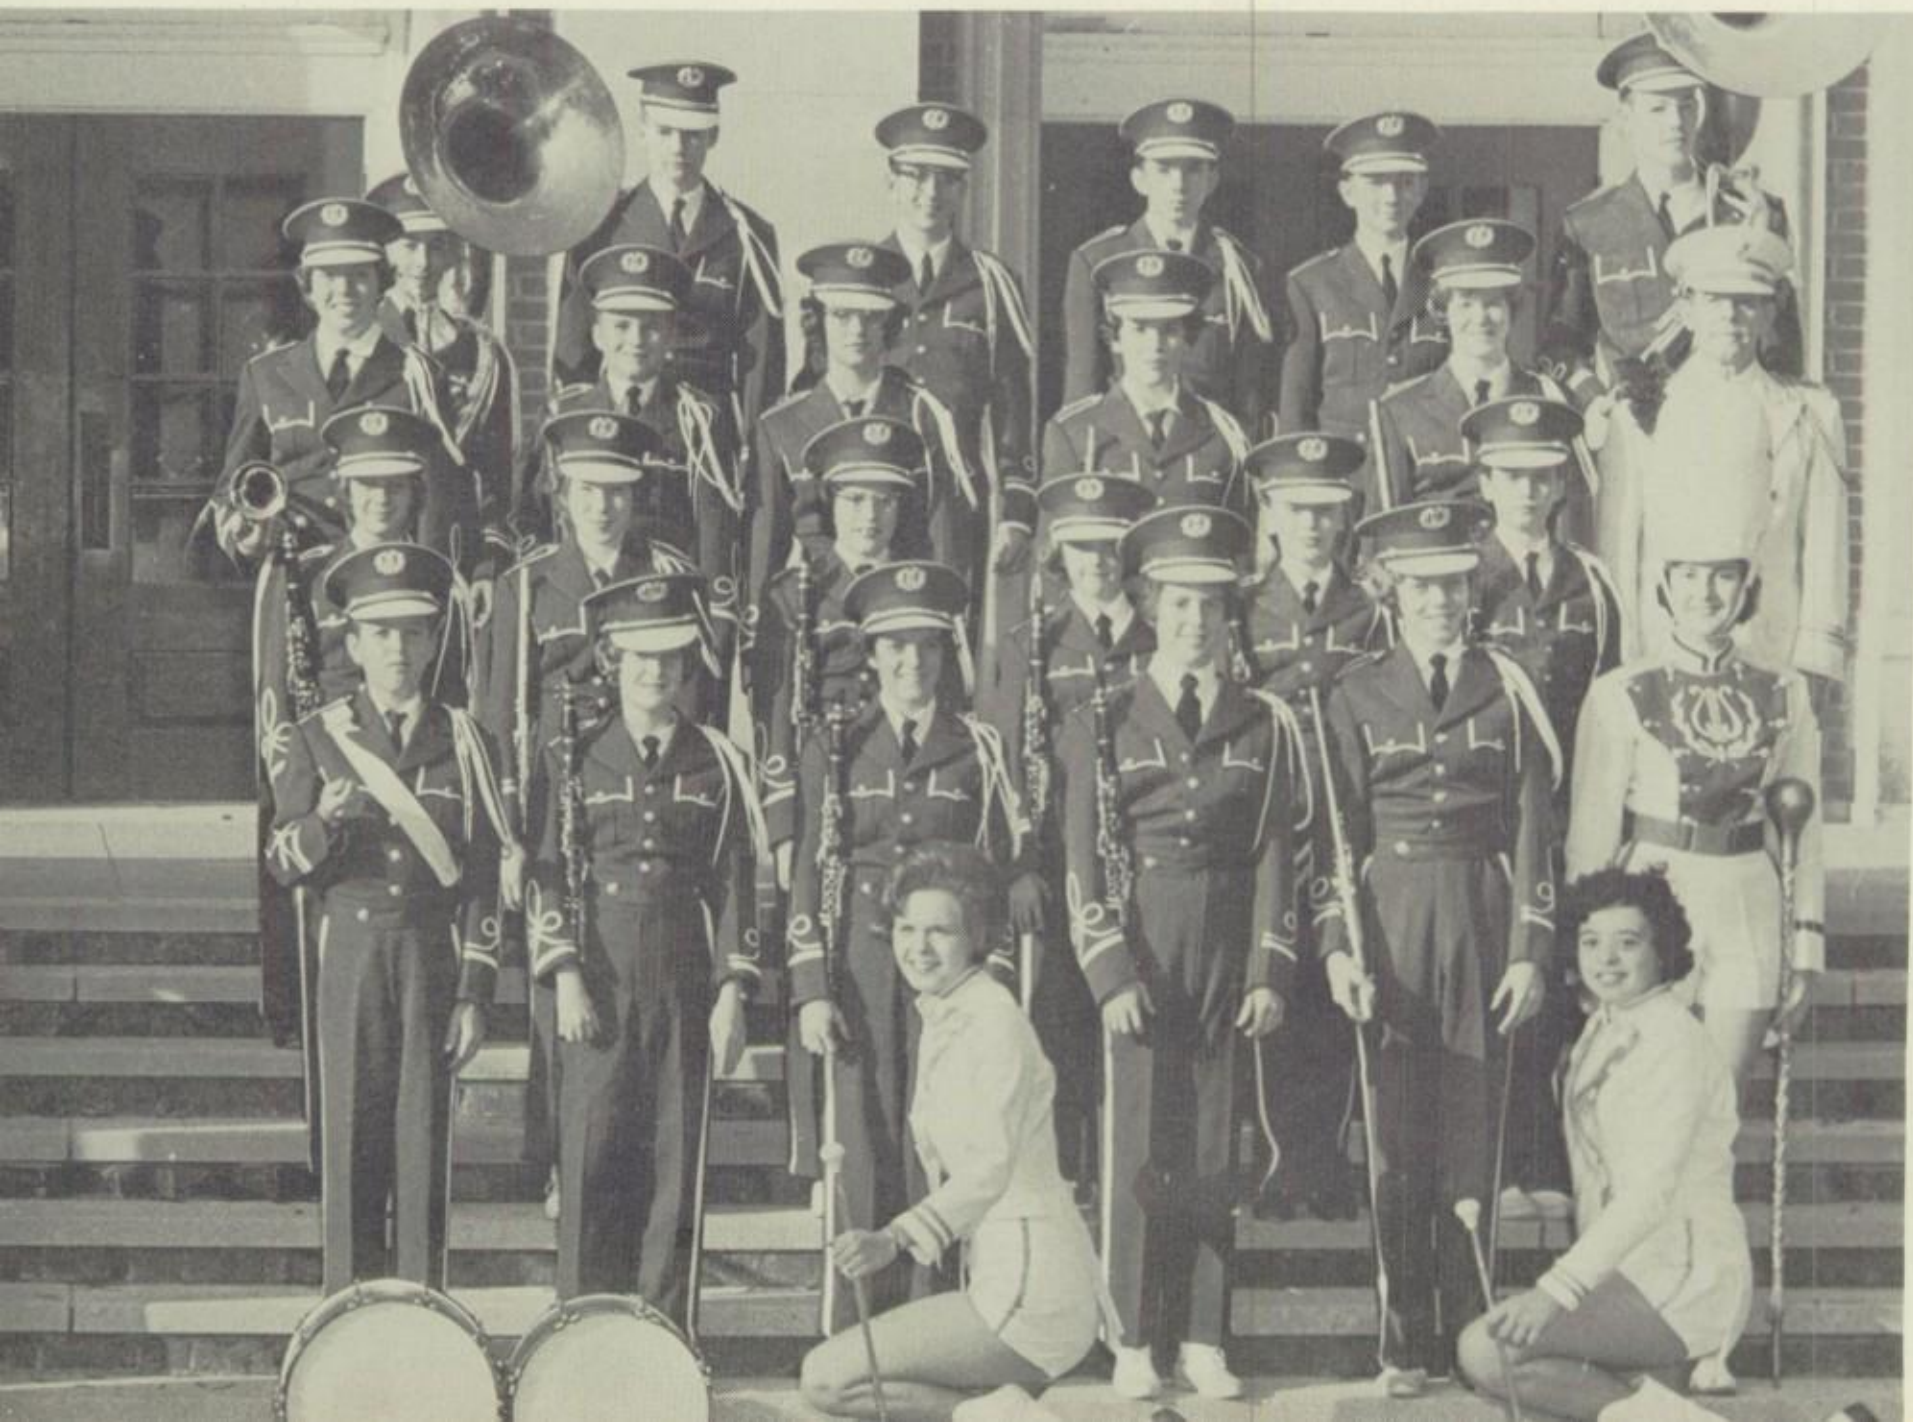

The band provides its members with varied activities. For example, the band marches in the Rock Hill Christmas parade, plays for student pep meetings, participates at school football games, and holds an annual spring concert. Another enjoyable feature is the band trip. This year the band has planned an excursion to South Carolina's oldest city, Charleston.

Jody,

Just think! We will be big freshmen next year. We sure have had a good time this year. I hope you don't sit in front of me next year.

ps

Patti

Jody,

To a real good guy.

Just grow a foot and you will be an All-State tackle! Have fun this summer.

Jody
To a swell
all around boy wishing you the best of luck

~~July~~ July,

It has been fun this year, you giving me your chewing gum wrappers. You added about 2 ft. to mine. I have enjoyed being in your room and I hope I am in it for many more years. Luck always Elaine

July

It has been a pleasure to listen and learn from you and your actions. I have hop you will not be any different when you return next year. 8th grade Secretary Doug

It has been very nice to be in the same class with a boy with such a good personality and who is always in a good mood. This whole school year not one day have I seen you really mad at anybody or anything.
You are able to put up with things that many that many people would ~~blow~~ up at.
Your friend Doug & blow
